
If you're a fan of games like The Lord of the Rings: War in the North, Lemmings 2D, or Bejeweled 2, then you'll love this sequel to an old but popular series called Aveyond. The graphics will blow your mind and keep you entertained for hours upon hours. Just make sure you have a good internet connection because it can take a while to load. I've been hooked on this game since I first saw it on my sister's computer when she bought it about six months ago and I'm still not tired of playing it. It's been refreshingly addicting after playing too many other time-sucking games these days that lack any real challenge at all. So if you want a challenge, this is the game for you. At any rate, Aveyond 2 is an amazing game that honestly deserves much more attention than it's been getting. I can't believe there aren't more people playing it! I don't normally write articles on these kinds of games because I'm not really into them. I'm mostly into RPG games like The Elder Scrolls series, but after seeing my sister play this, I felt like I had to try it myself and see what all the fuss was about. I've never been so satisfied with a game before. This is actually my new all-time favorite game. I'm not sure if it's because of the graphics, the gameplay, or maybe it's just because it's so intriguing and mysterious at first, but I love it. That being said though, there are some things that kind of annoy me about this game. First off, my sister doesn't like how complete the game is. If she didn't like that then she can go play something else (my favorite game). Second, I hate how long it takes to complete everything in this game. I just want to play it, but sadly I have less than half the game completed. Third, this game is really confusing at first. That's why you should read the tutorial (because you can't keep playing it until you do). It took me an hour to read the entire thing, which tells you how extensive it is. Anyways, you've probably figured out by now that I like the game itself since I spent so much time talking about it (and playing it). If you're interested in buying this game for your PC or Mac, then I recommend that you go ahead and do so because it's totally worth having. You can buy Aveyond 2 Eans Quest on Steam or at GOG for $10. You can also buy the entire Aveyond series on Steam or GOG for $20. It's a great deal that I personally recommend because it's a very entertaining and addicting game that has kept me occupied whenever I play it. So if you're looking for a challenge, then get your hands on Aveyond 2 Eans Quest and you'll be happy you did.
